Quality Enhancement Plan.....Dr. Paul

Dr. Fowler is a reviewer that goes to other institutions and if the committee suspects that one of the conditions aren't meant, then they get to look into it. They already started part (a). For all courses taken by all students is #1. He studied 11 years worth of data and what he found overall was 72.0%. This is the first time we've ever studied and pulled this data apart.

Jase McDonald asked about comparing nationally, but Dr. Fowler does not have the answer for that currently.

Questions asked by Dr. Fowler:

- What might we use for quality enhancement plans to help students over the years?
- What can we do to help students perhaps we haven't thought of?
 - Tutoring; more professor led
 - Student success/ career path/ resume building
 - stats behind individual instructors// are the 0.00 coming from a certain course/instructor?
 - information presented on new professors/ making sure they are knowledgeable about campus.
 - advisor/ accessibility / professional development.
